Ultimus WebClient and Advanced Task Service 2016

Mobile Focus

What is Ultimus WebClient and Ultimus Advanced Task Service?

Ultimus Advanced Task Service (UATS) is an innovative service layer between one or more Ultimus BPM servers and Ultimus WebClient, our end user solution portal. With Ultimus Advanced Task Service and WebClient, Ultimus moves beyond the boundaries of traditional BPM suites to ensure the performance, usability, and productivity of in-production business process solutions.

What are the benefits and features of Ultimus WebClient and Ultimus Advanced Task Service?

Ensures solution performance at scale – proven with tens of thousands of users

Allows mission critical and high security process solutions to be isolated into separate environments for high availability, ease of maintenance, and control of sensitive information

Provides a unified inbox for all process solutions, regardless of Ultimus version or solution environment
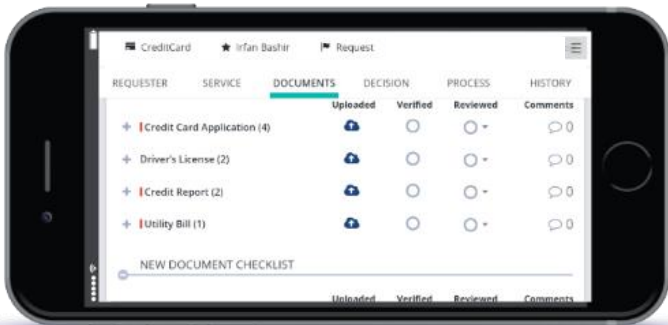

Creates a highly customizable and consistent end user environment regardless of device, language, or user preferences

Cutting Edge Mobile Functionality

The goal of Ultimus WebClient / Ultimus Advanced Task Service 2016, our sixth release of the product, was to bring an unprecedented mobile end user experience to Ultimus-based solutions in the most straightforward way possible.

Employing the most advance embodiments of responsive design, mobile device detection, and dynamic CSS, this release allows solution developers to write-once, run-everywhere – regardless of device or browser.

End users have one interface to learn, developers have one code base to maintain, and solution usability is maintained regardless of screen size, working style, or language.
